Wellington.
From the Daily Mail.

One of the loveliest, best natured, up-to-date camping parties which ever left Wellington for any neighboring grove is to be found in the one now snugly ensconced in the "shadow of the pines" at what is known as Krell's grove, not far from Oxford upon the sandy banks of the Minnescah. A representative of the Mail had the pleasure of visiting this beautiful spot over Sunday, and it is truly gratifying to know that Summer county can furnish such excellent camping places. The camp is laid out upon a most elevated which affords free access to the breeze and a sure retreat from the recent terrific rains. Upon the north stands the tent occupied by Mrs. A. Graft, Mrs. F. A. Amundsen, Mrs. I. I. Scott and daughter, Miss Vivian Scott. The next is occupied by Mrs. O. J. Hackney and family, the third by Mrs. H. W. Andrews and family, the fourth by Mrs. D. Share, Mrs. Mary Roser, Miss Mary Share and Miss Gertrude Caldwell, and last but not least comes a large canopy residence of Mrs. B. F. Sparr and son, Perry, and Mrs. L. J. French. The following parties came down to the camp Sunday, some of them to remain and some of them merely to visit and enjoy a single day's outing: Mrs. John T. Shewalter, Miss Mota Shewalter, Mame Woodcock, Messrs. I. L. Scott, H. W. Andrews, B. F. Sparr, A. Graft, Geo. T. Pitts, O. J. Hackney, Charles Whitfield, Fred Savage, John Miller, Bob Rothrock, M. R. McLean and W. E. Morris.

The Juneau, who used to be engaged in the lumber business in Wellington and is now located at Dodge City, is the founder of the city of Juneau, Alaska. He has been in Alaska three times, the last time in 1883. But he won't go any more. He says: "The terror and horror of it that country have not been overdone." It will now be seen whether Jim Ray will secure a nomination as an independent candidate for judge. Our prophecy is that he can't secure 200 signatures to his petition in the two counties. He has simply kicked himself off the face of the earth politically.

Arkansas City.

From the Daily Traveler.
Last night J. S. Eads came to the city from the Osage country. He and a man by the name of Clark had been in the Osage country looking for a job of buying, but not getting any, started for this city. They came back as far as Newkirk together. Then Eads took the train and came to this city. Clark continued his journey overland. He remained in Newkirk until the cool of the evening before starting to this city. When he left town he was riding one horse and leading another. North of Newkirk a short distance he was met by five men on horseback. They stopped him, surrounded him and made him dismount. They took his horse, saddle, slicker and grip, but did not search him for money. They searched him for a gun, but found none. After robbing him they started him north on foot, telling him to go four miles north and three miles east and he would get a job. Clark walked to the city this morning left for Osage county, Mo. He came to Ponca City a couple of weeks since from Chandler and there he and Eads met and went to the Osage country. One horse was worth about $30 and the other $15. Mr. Clark says he can identify one of the robbers but the others he can give no description of. One was very tall and slender and had peculiar features that he could easily recognize.

The little boy of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tyler, while playing this morning, fell from the grape arbor and broke an arm. Dr. Breconnet reduced the fracture.

The Santa Fe wrecking crew were called to Newkirk yesterday. In loading and switching cars of wheat the rails spread and four cars were derailed.

THE TRUE REMEDY

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskita, Ill., "Cale," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experienced with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at Geo. Van Warden's pharmacy, 328 N. Main street, and G. Gehring's drug store, northeast corner of Topeka and Douglas avenues.

STOCKS AND BONDS

VIOLENT LIQUIDATION OCCURS IN THE STOCK MARKET.

Market for a Time Apparently on the Verge of Going to Pieces But Stands Still in Time to Leave Net Results at Night Changes on the Day, Though Declines From High Points are Wide Enough—Grangers Worst to Break and First to Steady—Enormous Dealings in Both Stocks and Bonds.

New York, Aug. 9.—Quite a violent liquidation set in on the stock market in the last hour and a half of trading today, and prices came tumbling from their high places, the decline from the high point being in many cases very wide. What the professional traders have been predicting from time to time came to pass, namely, a sufficient decline in many stocks to uncover stop loss orders by weak holders of stocks. The dealers have been aware of the "pyramiding" of orders on large scales, that is to say, the re-investment of earnings as fast as made by weak holders, which threatened what occurred today. It looked for a time as though the market was going to pieces under the weight of heavy offerings to realize. But after it was over, a taking of account of the day revealed that the net changes of importance were confined to a comparatively few stocks. It was the stocks that had enjoyed sensational advances in the morning, notably the grangers, that suffered most severely in the afternoon. The selling to realize started in the grangers, and as the market it more sensitive to the influence of this group than any other, the selling movement soon broadened by sympathy until it included pretty much the whole list. It was noticeable that the grangers steeled and rallied even while other prices were all falling. Burlington recovered over a point from the lowest, and there were exceptions to the weakness all through the list, some prominent stocks holding firm in the midst of the heaviest selling.
